

Big Things Poppin'!

First things first...

I sincerely want to thank the many loyal patrons who have helped GGX do amazing things in 2010! Although I just started vending in March of this year, it is one of those things that has been a tremendous blessing to my soul. I've met some wonderful people/fellow artists, as well as solidified some great networking connections that will help me live my dream in an even BIGGER way in the next couple of years. So, it's full steam ahead!! I am already starting to solidify dates for upcoming events heading into the fall & winter, so be sure to stay abreast of what's in store...

Speaking of Winter...

I have decided to get started with planning for the upcoming Christmas holiday season, by mapping out a plan that will keep me on track and prevent me being overwhelmed by orders, as I was last year. This will help me continue to provide the best products, best prices, and best customer service possible, as well as provide my clients with incentive to get their orders in.

Check out the new Pre-Order Holiday Discounts and get your orders in early!

Looking Forward...

Bangin' Beauties © hammered aluminum earrings were the hit of the summer for GGX!

I also want to alert you that GGX will be taking a month-long hiatus from September 17 – October 17. During this time, I will not be processing any custom-orders, HOWEVER, the Etsy Store will be open, and all available items will be listed for sale. I also want to invite you take the opportunity to win FREE jewelry by hosting a "Diva's & Drinks" Jewelry Party. If you need something more low-key, I can arrange for a smaller-scale private showing at your convenience.

UPCOMING EVENTS: Come check GGX out on Labor Day Weekend – I'll be back at the Fenton Street Market on 9/4 with great end-of-summer deals! GGX will also be back to FSM on 9/11, which will be the last event until the end of October.

Again – I want to sincerely & personally THANK YOU for helping me live my dream. YOU are the ones that Keep GGX rockin'!

Peace & Love —
